Detailed Description

In this Nrf2 knockout strain, a β-galactosidase (lacZ) reporter followed by a neomycin resistance (neo) cassette replaces exon 5 and part of exon 4 encoding the nuclear factor, erythroid derived 2, like 2 gene (Nfe2l2) gene, abolishing gene function. Homozygotes are viable, fertile, and normal in size. Nrf2, a member of the “cap ‘n collar” (CNC) subfamily of the basic region-leucine zipper transcription factors, is a regulator of endogenous antioxidant protection, microglial function, and chronic neuroinflammation. Inactivation of the CNC, DNA binding, and leucine zipper domains in Nrf2−/− mice results in age-related macular degeneration (AMD)-like retinal pathology, spontaneous choroidal neovascularization (CNV), increased sensitivity to toxins, impaired adipogenesis, abnormal mitochondria, and an increase in proinflammatory gene expression in microglia and astrocytes. The donating investigator reports that lacZ failed to generate any detectable β-galactosidase activity.

Terms are granted by individual review and stated on the customer invoice(s) and account statement. These transactions are payable in U.S. currency within the granted terms. Payment for services, products, shipping containers, and shipping costs that are rendered are expected within the payment terms indicated on the invoice or stated by contract. Invoices and account balances in arrears of stated terms may result in The Jackson Laboratory pursuing collection activities including but not limited to outside agencies and court filings.

The Jackson Laboratory's Genotype Promise

The Jackson Laboratory has rigorous genetic quality control and mutant gene genotyping programs to ensure the genetic background of JAX® Mice strains as well as the genotypes of strains with identified molecular mutations. JAX® Mice strains are only made available to researchers after meeting our standards. However, the phenotype of each strain may not be fully characterized and/or captured in the strain data sheets. Therefore, we cannot guarantee a strain’s phenotype will meet all expectations. To ensure that JAX® Mice will meet the needs of individual research projects or when requesting a strain that is new to your research, we suggest ordering and performing tests on a small number of mice to determine suitability for your particular project.
