 Overview

Also Known As: Tg(C9orf72_2) line 8

Tg(C9orf72_2) line 8 mice have the C9orf72_2 transgene encoding the human C9orf72 with 15 hexanucleotide repeats ([GGGGCC]₁₅) in the intron between the alternatively-spliced non-coding first exons 1a and 1b. These mice may be useful in applications related to human amyotrophic lateral sclerosis and frontotemporal dementia.

Detailed Description

The most common genetic mutation associated with human amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS) and frontotemporal dementia (FTD) is a hexanucleotide repeat expansion in a non-coding region of the chromosome 9 open reading frame 72 gene (C9orf72). The C9orf72 transgenes C9orf72_3 and C9orf72_2 encode the human C9orf72 gene with a hexanucleotide repeat expansion in the intron between the alternatively-spliced non-coding first exons 1a and 1b.

The Tg(C9orf72_3) line 112 mice (Stock No. 023099) have several tandem copies of the C9orf72_3 transgene, with each copy having between 100-1000 repeats ([GGGGCC]₁₀₀₋₁₀₀₀).

The Tg(C9orf72_2) line 8 mice (Stock No. 023088) have the C9orf72_2 transgene with 15 hexanucleotide repeats ([GGGGCC]₁₅). Line 8 may be used as a control strain for Line 112.

Hemizygous mice from Tg(C9orf72_3) line 112 and Tg(C9orf72_2) line 8 are viable, fertile, born in Mendelian ratios and do not develop any locomotor or cognitive phenotype by 16 months of age.

By three months of age, however, hemizygous Tg(C9orf72_3) line 112 animals exhibit RNA foci (formed by hexanucleotide-repeat expansion-containing human C9ORF72 RNAs) and poly(GP) dipeptides (resulting from a non-ATG initiated translation of the repeat expansion) in most neuronal populations of the brain. No RNA foci or poly(GP) dipeptide phenotype is observed for hemizygous Tg(C9orf72_2) line 8.

The donating investigator reports that homozygous mice from Tg(C9orf72_3) line 112 and Tg(C9orf72_2) line 8 are viable and fertile, with no phenotype until at least three months of age. Characterization of older mice is in progress (March 2015).

Breeding Considerations

When maintaining a live colony, hemizygous mice may be bred together, to wildtype (noncarrier) mice from the colony or to C57BL/6J inbred mice (Stock No. 000664).

We will fulfill your order by providing at least two carriers for each strain ordered. The total number, sex, and genotypes provided will vary, although typically 8 or more animals are provided. Please check genotypes which will be recovered. While the genotypes of all animals produced will be communicated to you prior to scheduling shipment, the genotypes of animals provided may not reflect the mating scheme and genotypes described in the strain description. Animals are typically ready to ship in 11-14 weeks. If a second recovery is required to produce the minimum number of animals, then delivery time would increase to approximately 25 weeks. If we fail to produce animals of the correct genotype, you will not be charged. We cannot guarantee the reproductive success of mice shipped to your facility. If the mice are lost after the first three days (post-arrival) or do not produce progeny at your facility, a new order and fee will be necessary.

Payment Terms and Conditions

Terms are granted by individual review and stated on the customer invoice(s) and account statement. These transactions are payable in U.S. currency within the granted terms. Payment for services, products, shipping containers, and shipping costs that are rendered are expected within the payment terms indicated on the invoice or stated by contract. Invoices and account balances in arrears of stated terms may result in The Jackson Laboratory pursuing collection activities including but not limited to outside agencies and court filings.

The Jackson Laboratory's Genotype Promise

The Jackson Laboratory has rigorous genetic quality control and mutant gene genotyping programs to ensure the genetic background of JAX® Mice strains as well as the genotypes of strains with identified molecular mutations. JAX® Mice strains are only made available to researchers after meeting our standards. However, the phenotype of each strain may not be fully characterized and/or captured in the strain data sheets. Therefore, we cannot guarantee a strain's phenotype will meet all expectations. To ensure that JAX® Mice will meet the needs of individual research projects or when requesting a strain that is new to your research, we suggest ordering and performing tests on a small number of mice to determine suitability for your particular project.
